Executive Summary

Advertiser investment in the financial services vertical, specifically with podcast ads has surpassed $59M in 2025, signaling explosive untapped potential. Mercury is currently missing out on a fast-emerging channel where audio now commands 31% of total media time; creating a once-in-a-cycle advantage for early movers.

Brands like BetterHelp and AG1 have proven that leveraging podcast authenticity delivers a best-in-class ROAS of $3-$6 per $1 invested, outperforming social by +828% and video by +66%.

Key Insight: The brands that move first in podcast media dominate share of voice for years - converting awareness into trust, and trust into measurable sales lift.
